INFORMATION REQUEST REFERENCE 15-033

Dear

Thank you for your information request, received on 8 June 2015. You asked us to provide the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA):

- 1) The number of expressions of interest from potential self-builders submitted following the consultation that took place in April 2013 regarding the possibility of releasing land in the Olympic Park for Londoners to ensure, according to a statement from Dennis Hone, chief executive of the LLDC, to ensure "a diverse range of housing that attracts everyone" is built on the land.*
- 2) Detailed information on the outcome of the consultation and the current plans for the land which had been earmarked for potential self-build.*

I can confirm that the London Legacy Development Corporation (the Legacy Corporation) holds information on your request. I have responded below following your order:

- 1) The number of expressions of interest from potential self-builders submitted following the consultation that took place in April 2013 regarding the possibility of releasing land in the Olympic Park for Londoners to ensure, according to a statement from Dennis Hone, chief executive of the LLDC, to ensure "a diverse range of housing that attracts everyone" is built on the land.

The Legacy Corporation undertook a demand survey for custom build between 12 March and 19 April 2013, which comprised an online survey for anyone interested in custom build. A total of 520 responses were received.

- 2) Detailed information on the outcome of the consultation and the current plans for the land which had been earmarked for potential self-build.

The demand survey provided information on the level of interest if there was an opportunity for custom build. The survey also provided information about respondents including demographics, location, household size, tenure and their priorities. The potential for custom build was discussed with shortlisted bidders during the procurement of a development partner for the East Wick and Sweetwater neighbourhoods; however, the selected bidder's scheme does not include proposals for custom build.
