INFORMATION REQUEST REFERENCE 15-041

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your information request, received on 9 July 2015. You asked us to provide the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA):

“Please provide me with the following information for the Queen Elizabeth Sports Stadium in London:

- 1.A copy of your Public Liability Insurance Certificate*
- 2.A copy of the COMPLETION CERTIFICATE.*
- 3.A copy of the Sports Stadium Safety Certificate from Newham Council.”*

The London Legacy Development Corporation (Legacy Corporation) can confirm that they hold some of the information you have requested. I have responded following your order:

Q1. A copy of your Public Liability Insurance Certificate

Please find in attached a copy of the Public Liability insurance certificate (Annex A). Information has been redacted on this certificate. The information has been withheld under the following exemption:

Section 31 - Law enforcement.

(1)Information which is not exempt information by virtue of section 30 is exempt information if its disclosure under this Act would, or would be likely to, prejudice—

(a) the prevention or detection of crime

The section 31 exemption is a qualified exemption and subject to the prejudice test and the public interest test. Under the prejudice test we have to consider if disclosure of this information would, or would be likely to, prejudice the prevention of crime. Consideration is also given to the harm disclosing this information would be likely to cause, combined with other information already in the public domain (mosaic effect) or possibly released at a future date (precedent effect). The public interest test considers and balances the public interest in disclosing this information against the public interest in not disclosing this information and uses this assessment to decide whether there is sufficient justification in withholding this information under this exemption.

Information disclosed under the FOIA is considered to be public information, and while there is a presumption towards disclosure, consideration needs to be given as to who will have access to this information beyond the requestor, and the purposes for which they could use the information.

The Legacy Corporation have assessed the impact of releasing this information and consider that the public interest in this particular information would not benefit from this information being released into the public domain at this time. It is the view of the Legacy Corporation that the public interest in withholding the information outweighs the public interest in disclosing it.

Section 40(2) – personal information

*(2) Any information to which a request for information relates is also exempt information if—
(a) it constitutes personal data which do not fall within subsection (1), and
(b) either the first or the second condition below is satisfied.*

The section 40 exemption is absolute and is not subject to the public interest test. It is the standard practice of the Legacy Corporation to redact personal information unless consent to release the information has been received.

In this instance, the relevant condition that applies is section 40(2) whereby the information is defined as personal data within Section 1(1)(a) of the Data Protection Act 1998. The redacted information includes the name and contact details for the insurance agent. As we have not received consent of the data subject, release of the requested information at this time would contravene the first data principle under Schedule 2(1) of the Data Protection Act 1998.

Q2. A copy of the COMPLETION CERTIFICATE

The Legacy Corporation does not hold this information. The transformation contract with Balfour Beatty is not complete until 2016. There is no completion certificate for the Olympic Stadium at this time.

Q3. A copy of the Sports Stadium Safety Certificate from Newham Council

Please find in attached a copy of the Sports Stadium Safety Certificate from Newham Council (Annex B). Information has been redacted on this certificate.

Section 40(2) – personal information

*(2) Any information to which a request for information relates is also exempt information if—
(a) it constitutes personal data which do not fall within subsection (1), and
(b) either the first or the second condition below is satisfied.*

The section 40 exemption is absolute and is not subject to the public interest test. It is the standard practice of the Legacy Corporation to redact personal information unless consent to release the information has been received.

In this instance, the relevant condition that applies is section 40(2) whereby the information is defined as personal data within Section 1(1)(a) of the Data Protection Act 1998. As we have not received consent of the data subject, release of the requested information at this time would contravene the first data principle under Schedule 2(1) of the Data Protection Act 1998.

If you are unhappy with our response to your request and wish to make a complaint or request a review of our decision, you should write to:
