I didn't get the full registration but I believe it may have started with [REDACTED] I was wondering if you could help me obtain the registration details so that I can claim for the damage to my vehicle.”

I can confirm that the Legacy Corporation hold information relevant to your request, however, if we provided you with the information requested we would have to block out details of the other vehicle as we would otherwise be considered in breach of the Data Protection Act 1998.

If you contact your insurers and ask them to formally contact us, we would be able to provide the range rover registration to them, subject to the completion of the attached form.
